Bob,
I won't be able to contact you till later in the afternoon. I'm in several meetings, one of which is out of the office. I will try to call but if I don't, it's because I'm in meetings and I don't have the sense of urgency after reading your email.
Thanks,

Bob,
Capt. Berry has received emails from my boss, Chuck Duffy, regarding this meeting. I wanted to touch bases with you regarding a request from a business, Insitu, that will be doing a demonstration of a drone (like used in Afghanistan by the military). Insitu, a subsidiary of Boeing, wants to use it on wild land fires. They were asking for media coverage. We stated we would not arrange it.

I wanted to close the loop with you regarding our direction.

Call or email me if you have any questions.

P.S. I met with Capt. Berry this morning to make sure he is in the loop.

Bob,

Do you have time either today or tomorrow for me to brief you on this upcoming meeting? It is scheduled at the FTA. The chair of the Leadership Forum group (fire service stakeholders) have invited a number of politicians.

I'm open this morning till 11 and all tomorrow afternoon. I'm also open Monday afternoon from 1-2. Monday's are generally busy meeting days.

Thanks,

Paul Perz

Captain,

I have been informed that the President of the Washington Fire Commissioners, Miland Walling, has extended an invitation to Senator Cantwell and/or her staff to attend the Insitu Drone Working Group meeting. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 17th at 0930 hours in the WSP Conference room. No confirmation has been received from the Senator or her staff members at this time.

You may recall that the Insitu Drone issue was specifically mentioned by Schuyler Hoss to Governor Gregoire at the bill signing ceremony for the changes to the Fire Service Training Account.

The purpose of the Insitu Drone Working Group is to work out the details of Insitu's offer of free drone service for this year's fire season. The meeting on Tuesday is the first meeting.

Good Morning Captain – Just a quick note to advise that I spoke to Keith Merritt regarding possible congressional attendance at this morning's meeting (9:30 in the WSP Conference Room? Keith advised that he has not received any confirmation, although Miland Walling was the communication point and he is unable to attend due to illness. I will be in the meeting, and if anyone shows up, I will let you know ASAP!
